

HIPAA Compliance Alert: Protecting Patient Privacy in Our Practice (Updated for 2026)

This poster serves as a critical guide to our collective responsibility to uphold HIPAA standards, ensuring our practice remains defensible and patient data is secure.

Your Core Responsibilities: The Daily Do's & Don'ts

-  Always Follow the "Minimum Necessary" Rule
Only access, use, or disclose the absolute minimum amount of Protected Health Information (PHI) required to perform your job function.
-  Lock Unattended Computers
Lock when leaving. Auto-lock after 15 minutes.
-  Secure Paper Records
Keep PHI documents face down or stored in locked areas.
-  Never Share Your Password
Unique ID. No sharing. Change every 50 days.
-  Safeguard Conversations
Avoid overheard discussions. Verify caller identity before releasing PHI.

Patient Rights Our Practice Must Uphold

-  Right to Access Records
Provide copies within 30 days.
-  Update Notice of Privacy Practices (NPP)
Update by Feb 16, 2026, for new reproductive health info rules.
-  Right to File Complaints
Patients can complain to Privacy Officer or HHS. No retaliation.

CRITICAL UPDATE: Breach Reporting

-  What is a Breach?
Any unauthorized acquisition, access, use, or disclosure of PHI.
-  Report Potential Breaches IMMEDIATELY
Report to Privacy Officer immediately if a breach is suspected.
-  New 15-Day Reporting Mandate
Breaches must be reported within 16 days. Update internal policies.

Action Required: New 2024 Mandates

-  Leave Vague Voicemails
Limit messages to name, call-back request, and number. No clinical info.
-  Encryption is Now Required
Encrypt all PHI "at rest" and "in transit".
-  Conduct a Security Risk Assessment
Documented Security Risk Analysis required, failure can mean maximum fines.
-  Update Business Associate Agreements (BAAs)
Update all vendor contracts handling PHI with new language.
-  Document All Staff Training
Document all training sessions and periodic security reminders.
